

Title of Article

Author 1<sup>1*</sup>, Author 2<sup>2</sup> and Author 3<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup>Position, Institutional Affiliation, Country, Email address

*Corresponding author. Email address

Abstract

Abstract in 150-250 words. It must reflect the main focus and essential points of the study, objectives, theoretical framework, methods, findings, conclusions and recommendations.

Keywords: No more than five (5) keywords.

1. Introduction (Heading 1)

This section provides sufficient background information, showing why the research had to be undertaken. It contains the research problem and the need to undertake the research.

This section provides a clear statement of the goals and objectives of the research.

2. Conceptual/Theoretical Framework (Heading 2)

This section provides a clear direction and interactions of variables which the researcher expects to show by the data and data interpretations. This will provide structure of the complete research process and is presented in illustrated model formats.

3. Methodology (Heading 3)

This section includes brief discussions of data collection procedures and analyses. Data must be presented in appropriate tables.

4. Results and Discussions (Heading 4)

Analytical discussions must present possible relationships of the results of the study and the findings from other studies specifically reviewed for this purpose. Post analysis data may be presented in both statistical tables and appropriate models and figures.

Include subheadings as are necessary.

5. Conclusions and Recommendations (Heading 5)

Conclusions must be according to the objectives of the study.

Recommendations must reflect the objectives and conclusions of the study.

References

General format must follow the suggestions for authors, but generally must follow the APA Style for publications. (As of writing, APA's publication manual is in its 7th edition.)

Acknowledgements

Indicate individuals who assisted with the study should be listed here.

Authors' Contributions

For articles with multiple authors, please provide an outline showing each author's contribution.

Sample:

Conceptualization: Author XX

Data Gathering: Author YY

Funding

Cite if there are funding sources received for the paper. Otherwise, state – The research received no external funding.

Conflicts of Interest

This section declares that the Author(s) have no known competing interest (financial, personal relationship, involvement in publication process) which may result to potential conflict of interest.

Short Biography of Authors

Include Author(s)' full name, ORCID ID, affiliation. State also the qualifications, expertise and interests related to the article.